

Puzzle

Theorem: The largest positive number is 1.

Proof:

Let n be the largest positive integer. Since $n \geq 1$, we have $n^2 \geq n$. But n is the largest positive integer, so we must have $n^2 = n$. It then follows that $n = 1$.

