Think-Pair-Share

The idea is that I:

1) stop at a point where I would like to open the topic for discussion,

2) ask you to write for a minute or so on some fairly specific questions that will be the opening class discussion question,

3) pair you with the ones sitting near,

4) ask your pair to choose a reporter to report your discussion results in front of the class, and

5) ask your pair to share your ideas for a couple of minutes.