

2019 Graduate Trainee Programme

The Graduate Trainee Programme aims to develop future professionals for our core business including Technical Services, Planning & Production Control, Aircraft Maintenance, Inventory Technical Management, Commercial, Finance, Material Management and other major functional areas.

Trainees will be employed on full time basis and assigned to selected front-line and major functional areas of our business to gain knowledge and experience of aircraft maintenance practices, aircraft design principles, systems operation, inventory management, maintenance planning and control, aviation legislations, safety management systems as well as human factors and quality systems. Our Graduate Trainee Programme (Engineering Stream) is a Hong Kong Institution of Engineers (HKIE) accredited Scheme "A" Training Programme in the Aircraft Engineering discipline. Trainees in Engineering Stream will go through Scheme "A" Training in pursuit of engineer membership in the HKIE. Furthermore, by fulfilling the necessary requirements, the trainees will be able to obtain the aircraft maintenance licence issued by the Hong Kong Civil Aviation Department.

Upon successful completion of the programme, the trainees will continue to broaden their career prospect in allocated business units for further development.
