

Mr HO Ka Ming Patrick (1995 BEng EE)

The practicality of the CityU EE programme in the field attracted Mr Ho. With his final-year project and summary training, he said he had obtained hands-on experience before entering the field. These experiences enhanced his ability and knowledge, helped him grow and learn, and prepared him for his career pathway. He is currently the chief specialist at Kioxia Asia Limited (the former name of Toshiba Memory Corporation).

Mr Ho encourages our EE students to take initiative to learn, and utilize resources such as lab and other facilities provided by the university to help with their learning.
