

Maintenance Engineering / Assistant Engineer

Responsibilities:

- Control and communications engineering, installation, commissioning & maintenance activities
- Plan and monitor of work execution in accordance to project programme / maintenance schedule
- Organize, prepare and submit maintenance related documentation and submissions that meet contract requirements
- Coordinate with client and / or interface parties to clarify maintenance scope and information exchange to facilitate project execution
- Coordinate, manage and supervise on sub-contractors and / or suppliers to ensure deliveries fulfill contract requirements
- Attend ad hoc maintenance call-out on roaster basis to meet customer's requirement

Requirements:

- 4-5 years relevant working experience on control and communications engineering
- Higher Diploma or above in Engineering discipline
- Overnight work is required and willing to work independently under pressure
- Knowledge of AutoCAD and PLC Programming is preferred
- Good command of English and Cantonese
- Team player, able to work in complex environment and under pressure
- Proactive and able to work autonomously on resolving interface and project implementation issues is desired
- Candidate with less relevant experience may consider as Assistant Engineer