

Our company has been at home in the Asian markets for over 30 years, operating its own purchasing offices in Hong Kong. Reliable and capable business relationships have been developed over the years, with an extensive network of trusted developers, manufacturing partners and quality control experts throughout the Asian region. This know-how guarantees a high level of competence and competitiveness.

Senior Project Engineer

Job description:

- Provide technical consultation and advisory to customers, such as but no limited to hardware and software solutions
- On-site project operations & inspections, provide suggestions to maintain the quality and standards within scope of works
- Perform and carry out system testing and/or applications configurations to ensure the fulfillment of a timely project outcome
- Support internal and external stakeholders for the development of solutions and new products according to market requirements
- Drafting product specification and quotation

Qualification & expertise:

- Engineer or equivalent university degree of applied sciences in the field of electronics or relevant disciplines of Engineering
- Technical background in B2B business environment
- Minimum of 5 years of project management expertise, all of which preferable obtained within the sector
- Has knowledge of CE, LVD, EMC, e-mark, RED, WEEE, ROHS and EN Standard
- Experiences and passion in 3D printers, drones, IoT product or APP related product is an advantage
- With strong project management skills and interpersonal skill-set
- Interest for technical details and practical test performances
- Self motivated, willingness to learn, solution oriented, strong sense of responsibility
- Able to communicate in English is essential (speaking & writing), as well as Cantonese & mandarin
- Familiar with PC application/working environment
- Job location based in Hong Kong with occasionally travel overseas
- Candidates with less experience will be considered as Project Engineer

We provide a 5-day work week, flexible working hours, a modern work environment, a strong team of motivated and dynamic individuals who collaborate and interact closely with each other. Please send a resume in English as well as your expected salary to adminhr@cei-hk.com.